Ministry for Earth Community

A one-day conference on the implications of ecology for ministry and religious practice

Friday, April 24, 2009
8am-5pm
Harvard Divinity School
45 Francis Ave, Cambridge MA

SCHEDULE:
8-9: Registration
9-11:30: Panel Presentation and discussion featuring:
   Susan Abraham, Rev. Margaret Bullitt-Jonas, Roger S. Gottlieb, and Willis Jenkins
1:15-2:30: Workshop Session I
2:45-4:00: Workshop Session II
4:15-5:00: Closing Worship Service, Blessing and Dedication of HDS Community Garden

WORKSHOP TOPICS:
The Christian Economics of Food;
Pastoral Care in an Age of "Ecological Crisis;"
Pilgrimage to the Boiler Room: stewardship of where we live and worship;
The Greening of Worship

Susan Abraham, Assistant Professor of Women’s Studies and Ministry Studies at Harvard Divinity School; Rev. Margaret Bullitt-Jonas, Priest Associate at Grace Episcopal Church, Amherst, Religious Witness for the Earth leadership council; Roger S. Gottlieb, Professor of Philosophy at Worcester Polytechnic Institute, author of The Oxford Handbook of Religion and Ecology, and A Greener Faith: Religious Environmentalism and Our Planet’s Future; and Willis Jenkins, Margaret A. Farley Assistant Professor of Social Ethics at Yale Divinity School, author of Ecologies of Grace: Environmental Ethics and Christian Theology.

Presented by:
The Boston Theological Institute Religion and Ecology Program;
ECOdiv, the Harvard Divinity student environmental organization;
Harvard Divinity School Office of Ministry Studies;
Massachusetts Conference United Church of Christ Environmental Ministries;
Massachusetts Council of Churches;
Massachusetts Interfaith Power and Light

PLEASE RSVP to: btioffice@bostontheological.org