TEILHARD, EVOLUTION, AND ECOLOGY

Allerd Stikker

Allerd Stikker (1928) was born in the Netherlands, graduated as a chemical engineer from Technical University Delft, and worked in the corporate sector for thirty years. After obtaining an MA in Religious Studies on “Tao, Teilhard, and Western Thoughts” under the supervision of Ursula King at Leeds University, he spent the next thirty years in the non-governmental organization (NGO) sector, focused on alleviating the world’s water problems, proposing a balance between economy and ecology, and incorporating a Daoist worldview. Since 2005, he has been a Trustee on the Board of the Alliance of Religions and Conservation (ARC) and has worked with ARC in its China program. Books by the author include The Transformation Factor: Towards Ecological Consciousness (1986), Closing the Gap: Exploring the History of Gender Relations (2002), Water: The Blood of the Earth (2007), and Three Windows on Eternity: Exploring Evolution and Human Destiny (2013).
