

BOSTON COLLEGE

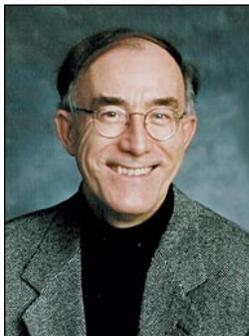

SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY AND MINISTRY

CONTINUING EDUCATION

The Emerging Alliance of Religion and Ecology

Mary Evelyn Tucker

John Grim

This talk highlights some of the remarkable work being done within religious communities around the world to bring healing and restoration to people and land. While acknowledging the limitations of religions, it also notes the promise for ethical and spiritual transformation regarding ecological attitudes and practices.

Mary Evelyn Tucker and John Grim are both senior lecturers and senior researcher scholars at Yale Divinity School and School of Forestry and Environmental Science.

Sponsored by the School of Theology and Ministry

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC. PLEASE REGISTER.

Thursday, October 17, 5:30 p.m.
Heights Room, Corcoran Commons
Chestnut Hill Campus

REGISTER AT WWW.BC.EDU/STMCE OR CALL 617-552-6501