

Sustaining Earth, Sustaining Soul

a workshop held
June 3-5, 2011 at

Esalen

led by Jeffrey Kiehl,
Jungian Analyst

How can we sustain our world and our souls at the same time?

How do we come to live a more balanced and sustainable life within the world?

How do we develop deeper ways of relating to one another and the world at large?

Jeffrey Kiehl is a Diplomate Jungian Analyst with a private practice in Boulder, Colorado. He also holds a Ph.D. in climate science.

In this workshop we will explore new ways of living both sustainably and soulfully. Here soulful living means seeing and feeling beyond surfaces into the deeper interior of ourselves, others and the world. Using Jungian techniques that develop our imagination and intuition we will explore the unity of inner and outer worlds. We will engage with the beauty of the Big Sur coast to deepen our connection to the natural world.

Esalen Institute founded in 1962, has long been recognized as a world leader in alternative and experimental education.

Register on the web or call 831-667-3005. For additional information please contact info@esalen.org or visit www.jtkiehl.com.