

"ECOSPIRIT CONVERSATIONS"

Dialogues about Spirituality & Sustainability

You are cordially invited to join us in an SSGN Webinar

Tuesday, September 17th, at 7:30 PM EDT & 23:30 UTC

Tim Beal, Ph.D.

“When Time is Short:

Finding Our Way in the Anthropocene”

Part 2

Acclaimed religion scholar and author Timothy Beal discusses issues raised in his book “When Time is Short” and how we might navigate the inevitabilities of the climate crisis and the very real possibility of human extinction. Timothy Beal argues that religion has informed a state of denial and a view of human exceptionalism that ignores the laws of nature. The author explores difficult questions about our own mortality as a species and how we can find hope in the face of an increasingly dire environmental crisis.

REGISTER AT <https://bit.ly/ssgnsept>

Tim Beal's BIO

Timothy Beal is a writer and scholar in the field of religious studies whose work explores matters of religion, ecology, and technology. He is Distinguished University Professor, Florence Harkness Professor of Religion, and Director of h.lab at Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio, USA. He has been Interim Dean of the university's College of Arts and Sciences (2019), Chair of the Department of Religious Studies (2015-21), and Director (2003-07) and Associate Director (2002-03) of the Baker-Nord Center for the Humanities.

Spirituality & Sustainability Global Network

<https://spirituality-sustainability.net>

ORGANIZATIONAL PARTNERS

